

How Can We Help You?

The Oklahoma Tourism & Recreation Department
Travel Promotion Division

The Travel Promotion Division's programs are designed to increase awareness of Oklahoma as a destination while fostering understanding of the economic impact and importance of the state's travel and tourism industry.

The division operates 9 Tourism Information Centers; works with communities, events and attractions to improve and develop new tourism products; oversees numerous public relations and information programs; conducts direct sales efforts for the trade and consumer markets; operates the department's web site, TravelOK.com; fulfills information requests for tourism materials and brochures; administers the multicounty matching funds program; produces the Discover Oklahoma television program; and coordinates annual spring and fall advertising campaigns and related cooperative advertising ventures.

Tourism is a vital economic development tool for Oklahoma. We are committed to providing assistance and maintaining productive partnerships with communities, tourism organizations and businesses throughout the state. Following is a list of programs and services we offer, and the appropriate staff person to contact. (Last updated: 7/18/2011)

Web Site

TravelOK.com is the state's official Internet site for Oklahoma travel and tourism information. Attractions, events, accommodations and restaurant properties from across the state are included on the site, along with special sections devoted to the media, group travel professionals and tourism industry members. Special offers, coupons and discount packages to Oklahoma destinations are also posted on the site.

If you wish to be listed free of charge in our database, or in our Deals and Coupons section, please e-mail us at Update@TravelOK.com.

If you need assistance using the new data engine to update your listing, or if you don't have Internet access, please contact Rose Bemo.

Travel Guide

The annual Oklahoma Travel Guide is the essential publication for travelers to and within Oklahoma. This guide highlights points of interest all across the state and includes a directory of things to do, plus lodging facilities, listed by city. It is distributed to more than 350,000 prospective travelers.

Your tourism-related attractions can be listed in this popular publication free of charge. Publication listings are exported from the TravelOK.com database, so make sure your info is up-to-date by April 1 every year.

Co-op Advertising Programs

Travel and tourism-related businesses can optimize advertising dollars by taking part in the Tourism Department's cooperative advertising programs, available through a variety of media. Program options include magazine publications and a newspaper insert. Other options are also made available when possible. We are encouraging publishers to offer added value with these coop programs, i.e., a web presence) in addition to the ad space.

Tourism Information Centers

Located at various points of entry to the state, as well as in the State Capitol and two metropolitan areas, Oklahoma's Tourism Information Centers provide tourism materials and travel counseling to more than one million auto travelers every year. Tourism businesses also may arrange to display their promotional brochures at the centers. An application and guideline info is available on TravelOK.com.

Bulk Brochure Orders/Warehouse

The Oklahoma Travel Guide, highway maps, and other OTRD publications are available in bulk quantities for chambers of commerce, convention and visitors bureaus and other tourism-related organizations. Although there is no charge for brochures to these groups, we request every effort be made to pick up materials at the Oklahoma City distribution warehouse to save taxpayers the expense of freight and postage. Quantities of some brochures are limited and distributed at the tourism department's discretion.

Speaker's Bureau

Our Speaker's Bureau program provides professional tourism industry speakers as a service to organizations, fostering good civic relations and further promoting the Oklahoma tourism message to the public. Speakers from OTRD are available to discuss a variety of tourism-related topics with your organization.

We are also interested in hearing from tourism industry professionals who are available to speak to key civic and professional groups about the economic importance of tourism to Oklahoma. We can add your name to a list to be scheduled for possible speaking engagements in your area or around the state. Or, if you are a member of an organization and would like to schedule a speaker, please contact us.

Group and Trade Marketing

Our group travel staff is Oklahoma's link for direct sales and marketing to the travel trade. OTRD is ready to show communities ways to increase their share of tour bus and group travel business in Oklahoma. Communities offering tourism attractions that can accommodate motorcoaches have the opportunity to list these on TravelOK.com. The site includes a special page of information for group travel professionals.

Consumer Marketing

Consumers are reached through boat, sport and travel shows, and other consumer exhibitions in primary and secondary markets. Division staff helps organizations incorporate travel shows into their marketing programs. Plus, staff maintains valuable contacts with the American Automobile Association and Canadian Automobile Association through direct mail and by telephone and Internet. Multicounty associations, convention and visitors bureaus, chambers of commerce and other organizations can work with division staff to develop their own consumer marketing programs.

Through the OklaStrong cooperative program, tourism organizations can partner with the department to have a presence at several consumer trade shows throughout the year.

Okie Boutique Web Store & Authentic Oklahoma (AOK) Product Line

Authentic Oklahoma, or AOK, is a thoughtful line of distinctive products selected by the Oklahoma Tourism and Recreation Department. Many AOK items were created by Oklahomans, while others were chosen because they represent Oklahoma's spirit and sense of place. The AOK brand reflects Oklahoma's legendary stories, gracious people and epic landscapes and is meant to inspire people to experience our state for themselves through an Oklahoma vacation or getaway. Some items are available for wholesale to retailers. All items are available to purchase through our Tourism Information Center Gift Shops and the Okie Boutique Web store at TravelOK.com.

Other OTRD Resources

Oklahoma Film & Music Office

The Oklahoma Film & Music Office is committed to promoting the state as a desirable, film-friendly environment for the production of motion pictures, TV shows and videos. We assist both in-state and out-of-state companies by providing assistance with locations, equipment, crew, permits and facts about Oklahoma and its communities.

The OF&MO must be able to respond to a location request very quickly or run the risk of missing out on the opportunity. Once a location is chosen, OF&MO serves as a liaison between the production company and the selected community or city and the state to ensure that everything runs smoothly.

We would love to enlist you and your community to work with us. The first step is to provide us with up-to-date digital photos of your community. Some photo ideas are your main streets, schools, buildings and homes with interesting architecture, local color (diners, soda fountains, old gas stations) and any nearby tourist attractions. Please contact us so we can discuss how to maximize your time photographing locations for our database. We look forward to working with you.

Federal Grants

The Oklahoma Tourism and Recreation Department administers the Land and Water Conservation Fund Program (LWCF) and the Recreational Trails Program (RTP). They are both federal reimbursement-type grant programs.

The LWCF Program, managed through the National Park Service, encourages conservation of key open spaces, such as riverfronts, forests, and wetlands and the development of community parks. Development projects can vary widely: from trails to boating facilities to nature centers to picnic facilities and from improvement of park landscapes to development of basketball courts or swimming pools or ball fields. The LWCF provides for a 50 percent federal share for each project and requires a 50 percent local share.

The RTP Program is managed through the Federal Highway Administration and funds all types of public use trails and trail facilities. These include walking, hiking, mountain biking, equestrian, motorcycle, ATV, and 4-wheel drive trails. The RTP provides for an 80 percent federal share for each project and requires a 20 percent local share.

State and local government organizations, Indian Tribes, public schools and Universities are eligible to apply for these federal funds. The RTP Program also allows federal land managers and 501 (C) (3) non-profit organizations to apply. Project applications and guidelines can be found on our website at www.oklatourism.gov under Conservation and Planning.
